Where our guests become our friends!

Welcome to The Waverly Inn where personal service helps to set us apart and being in the mountains helps to keep us there. Our area offers breathtaking scenery year-around, temperate climates, cultural pursuits and hospitality as it was meant to be.

Recently renovated and listed in the National Register of Historic Places, The Waverly Inn is Hendersonville's oldest inn. Cited in national publications such as The New York Times and Southern Living, The Waverly received high praise in Vogue Magazine for our breakfasts.

Join us for one of our evening social hours, a time set aside for you to enjoy a favorite beverage and hors d'oeuvres. Or, try our fresh-baked cookies or cakes. At The Waverly Inn, we want to make everyone feel welcome and right at home.

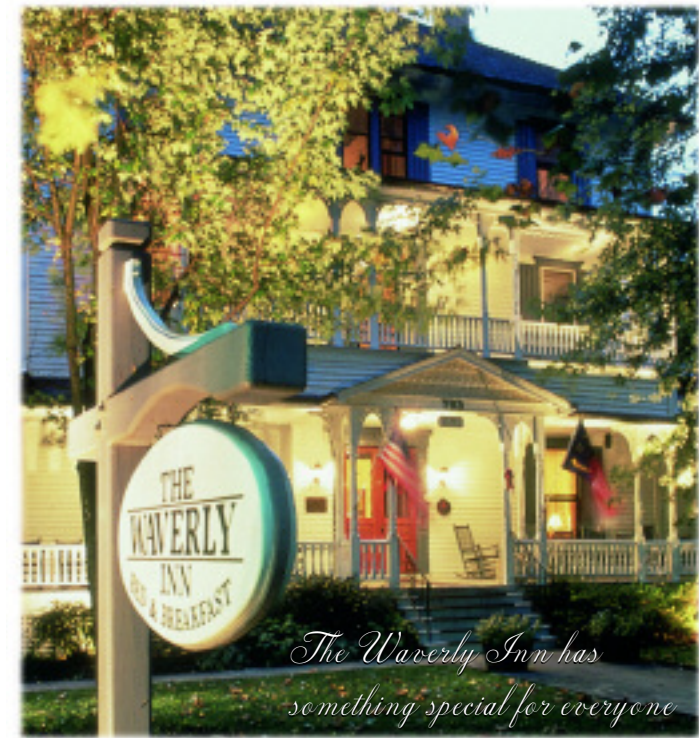

Hendersonville is a unique town of cosmopolitan tastes and small town atmosphere. The restaurants are wonderful, and the shopping is nothing short of superb. Whether you are looking for antiques, mountain crafts, or something from a clothing boutique or specialty shop, downtown is within easy walking distance of the Inn.

There are endless miles of trails for hiking, horseback riding or mountain biking. Golfers can find a little bit of heaven in Hendersonville. There are five different courses, all within easy driving distance. The streams nearby have our famous mountain trout and the fishing is terrific.

Located twenty miles south of Asheville, Hendersonville is a perfect place to stay. The Biltmore Estate, Carl Sandburg National Historic Site, The Flat Rock Playhouse, Blue Ridge Parkway, Chimney Rock/Lake Lure, The Folk Art Center, Pisgah National Forest, Brevard Music Center, Cradle of Forestry Interpretive Center, and The Thomas Wolfe House are just a few of the places to visit while you are here.
